deMontluzin Sr. Taken by Death at 93

deMontluzin Sr., until recently the oldest active member in Mississippi, died Wednesday night in the home of his only son, Rene Jr., at 1400 Montluzin Ave. He was 93.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at the funeral home of J. J. Johnson, 1400 Montluzin Ave. Burial will be in the St. Louis Cemetery.

deMontluzin Sr. was a member of the Hamasa Temple of Meridian, and of Bay St. Louis Lodge 429, F and AM.

Known affectionately as Mr. Rene, he retained the tradition of old school French charm and humor which his father brought when he came here in 1878 from a post as professor at a small Louisiana college. The elder deMontluzin founded the drugstore as a hobby when doctors told him to cut activities after a heart attack. He lived to be 88.

Survivors include his granddaughter, Lorraine deMontluzin; a niece, Mrs. George Doll of New Orleans, N. Y., and a nephew, Col. R. E. deMontluzin of New Orleans.

Phillips Opposes Poll

NCAA Question Is One for Trustees

Hancock County's state representative, Walter Phillips, reiterated today his position that the legislature should have no part in the decision whether Mississippi State's No. 5 ranked basketball team should be allowed to participate in the non-segregated NCAA championships.

Bay Students To Canvass Heart Sunday

Some 50 students from Bay High School, their teachers and other volunteers will conduct a door-to-door canvass Sunday afternoon in this area as part of the nationwide observance of Heart Sunday for the benefit of the current Heart Fund drive.

The solicitation will be between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m., according to Mrs. C. R. Beyer, campaign chairman. Among students taking part will be members of the Beta Club and representatives of the junior and senior classes.

"The drive is moving very slowly and is far from the goal of $1,200 set for Hancock County," Mrs. Beyer observed. She disclosed that up until early this week, collections totaled only about $200.

"We are urging everyone to give generously to this worthy cause to endow research and help to save the millions of lives lost through heart disease," she declared.

"There are some very smart men on the board of trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning," he observed, asserting that they are the ones to determine policy in this and other questions affecting the state's colleges.

He added that the constitutional board was created to keep the university system out of politics, recalling the furor in 1940s when Mississippi College were taken off the accredited list because of political dabbling.

Representative Phillips commented on the following Gov. J. P. Edwards' suggestion that college trustees should poll the legislature on the NCAA question, insuring that the legislature controls the purse strings.

The governor probably was stating his position when he made the suggestion, Phillips added. "Just as I'm doing when I say it should be up to the board of trustees."

Indulging in some self-criticism as a member of the legislature, he said he feels that body is inclined to take too much on itself and delve into too many things.

If the legislature gets into the NCAA tournament question, the next step would be to bring pressure to bear on the professors and that's where Phillips draws the line.

He said he has talked with a number of Mississippi State graduates and they go along with his view that the question is not one for the legislature. A number of the alumni have observed that the college is trying to build up its basketball team but can't get national recognition because it is unable to enter many of the major tournaments, he continued.

If the trustees decide it is well to enter the NCAA competition, then that should be done, Phillips concluded, while if they decide it is bad, the team should not play.

Brignac to Head School Fund Drive

Announcement is made by the Rev. Martin Moloney, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, of the appointment of committee chairman and division leaders to head the drive for funds to build and furnish a proposed new parochial school for the parish.

E. M. Brignac Jr. will be general chairman of the drive. Committee chairmen include Robert L. Camors, canvasser; E. J. Arceaneau, initial gifts; Alden L. Mauffray, special gifts; Warren J. Carver, teams; James A. Ryan, canvass auditor, and Arthur J. Chapman, publications.

Division leaders will be Andy Becker, Charles Gottschalk, Dr. A. K. Martinolich, Joseph Scalfidi and George Seuzeneau. Team captains will be appointed before launching of the drive, which will open officially March 2. A loyalty dinner for all adult members of the parish will be March 1 at St. Stanislaus College. The entire building program will be explained at this dinner.

Douglas Silverton of Wells Organizers Inc. is canvass director.

PILGRIMAGE GARDEN--Mrs. Bernard Farrelly, left, shows Mrs. Edward Heath a lovely camellia bush in the garden of her Second Street home during the annual spring pilgrimage sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs which came to the Bay-Waveland area Tuesday. It was a bloom from Mrs. Farrelly's garden, a Comte de Nesselrode, which won her the tri-color in horticulture at the local Camellia Show last weekend.

Mrs. Farrelly's Bloom Gets Tri-Color in Camellia Show

A Comte de Nesselrode bloom entered by Mrs. B. F. Farrelly won for her the tri-color award in horticulture at the 1959 Camellia Show of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club last weekend while the mother-daughter team of Mrs. J. E. Erwin and Nita Kay Erwin walked away with top honors in the arrangements division.

More than 1,000 persons viewed the show Saturday and Sunday in what club officials said was the largest turnout ever, many of the visitors coming from as far away as Illinois, Michigan and Western points. Entries also reached a new high.

Judges, all accredited by the American Camellia Society, were George Powell Jr., Mrs. J. R. Clover, both of Gulfport; Dr. A. V. Friedrichs of Slidell, La.; Mrs. J. V. Pringle, Mrs. Dewey Reagan and Mrs. Melvin G. Ness, all of Biloxi.

For her best bloom in the show, Mrs. Farrelly was awarded a silver trophy donated by Hancock Bank.

The tri-color award in arrangements, given by Merchants Bank, went to Mrs. Erwin for her entry in Class 2, camellias in an urn for the living room. Her daughter, a freshman at Bay High won the trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller for the best arrangement in the high school division with her entry of shells or coral for the dining room. She also was sweepstakes winner in the high school division, the trophy given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Embry.

Another mother-daughter team taking down top honors were Mrs. Dan M. Russell Jr. and her daughter, Dale, who won the sweepstakes trophy of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club for the most blue ribbons in the grammar grade division. Mrs. Russell's entry in fans for an entrance hall was judged runner-up for the best arrangement in the show for which she received the trophy given by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gleim. She also won the sweepstakes trophy given by Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dantagan for the most blue ribbons in arrangements.

The award for best arrangement in the grammar grade division went to Miss Lorraine deMontluzin for her fans for an entry work.

Dr. Walter C. Hava of Waveland added the horticulture sweepstakes prize given by Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Porter to his growing list of camellia show trophies. He also received the gold certificate of award from the American Camellia Society.

Doralee Claiborne was runner-up in the horticulture sweepstakes, receiving the trophy given by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hill Sr. and the silver certificate of award from the American Camellia Society.

Runners-up for the best bloom in the show was the Rev. C. Lewis of St. Augustine Seminary.

Among the two best blooms Joe Samuel's was judged best with Mr. Claiborne, the Rev. Mr. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell runners-up.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crump won the trophy given by Mr. and Mrs. Russell for the best seedling and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller received a red ribbon for theirs. Club officials have announced that exhibitors who did not receive their ribbons by the close of the show Sunday afternoon may secure them from the city-county library.

Other winners in the senior arrangement division with the theme of Romance of Camellias in the American Home were: Fans for an Entry: Mrs. Russell, first

Pilgrimage Here Called Big Success

At least 200 people attended in the show was the Rev. C. Lewis of St. Augustine Seminary.

Remaining stops on the tour include Pascagoula Saturday, Biloxi Sunday and Pass Christian Wednesday. Other coast cities which have hosted garden-lovers during the annual Coast Pilgrimage, include Long Beach and Gulfport.

Helicopter Lands At St. Stanislaus Exciting Children

A Navy helicopter operator landed for about three minutes early Friday afternoon on St. Stanislaus College campus and then ascended without giving reason for the landing. Brother Richard, president of the college, said.

The helicopter descended between noon and 12:30 p.m. on the supply room campus, Brother Richard said. When several children at the school gathered on the campus to watch the plane, Brother Richard circled the air between them and the aircraft to prevent accidental injury to any of the children.

Solomon Given New Bank Post

Mark Solomon, Bay St. Louis native and honor graduate of Bay High School, has been appointed to handle the consolidated advertising and public relations department for Hancock Bank, President Leo Seal Sr. and the board of directors have announced.

Solomon joined the Hancock Bank staff in 1952 after two years with Whitney National Bank in New Orleans. He has been associated with the Bay St. Louis office since that time. A graduate of the University of Mississippi, he was president of the student body there in 1946-47.

Bank directors also have named Robert Woodall of Gulfport as assistant cashier, joining the bank in 1950 after graduation from Mississippi Southern College, he now heads the general accounting, purchasing and filing departments. He is immediate past president of the Gulfport Junior Chamber of Commerce and a past vice president of the Mississippi Junior Chamber.

Mercier Appointed

Father, Adrian Mercier, assistant pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church has been appointed West Coast deanery director of vocations in the Mississippi Deanery.

visors, this week became the first to pay his filing fee and enter the field for the August Democratic primary.

With state elections also bolstering the interest in politics this year, a sizeable array of candidates are expected in the next few weeks for the various county offices.

An announcement of candidacy for Beat 5 constable has come from Herman Mazarakis, the incumbent, of 335 Jeff David Avenue, Waveland. He is now finishing out his first term in office and is a member of the American Legion, Knights of Columbus, St. Clare's Church and served 10 years in the Army.

Stockstill, of Box 170, Route 3, Piquette, was in the five-man race for Beat 4 supervisor in 1955 which Jack Lott, board president, won. A carpenter, and Baptist he was born in Carriere in Pearl River County and has lived in Hancock for 35 years. He is married to the former Miss Voulens Smith and they have one son.

Blood Bank Meet Called on Monday

A special meeting of members of Hancock County Blood Bank will be at 8 p.m. Monday in Knights of Columbus Hall upstairs, Edward Murtigh, co-chairman, announced. Blood Bank workers will prepare plans for the spring drawing at the Youth Center.

Wage Rate Approval Is Last Hospital Question

Federal approval of wage rates included in plans for the proposed Hancock County Hospital is the only remaining obstacle to advertisement for bids, which should be within two to three weeks, it was indicated at Monday's Board of Supervisors meeting.

Architect Wilfred Dawson and his consulting engineers, members of the board and board attorney Sam L. Favre Jr. received permission Thursday from the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care to prepare for advertisement after conferring in Jackson on commission suggestions for changes in final plans.

Dawson had called Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard Monday before the meeting to ask for payment by the board for completion of the plans. Normally, an architect is paid 4.5 per cent of the building cost at the time of completion of plans and 1.5 per cent when the building is completed.

However, the supervisors took the position that Dawson, who was seven months late in completing the plans, was not entitled to the full 4.5 per cent at this time. They agreed to pay him $2,000 now. He had asked for $8,752, the amount he had computed as 4.5 per cent.

A preliminary set of plans for an addition to the Courthouse was presented by New Orleans architect Fred Wagner.

A bond issue election on construction of this addition and the proposed public health center was urged by Supervisor Hubbard. The Supervisors decided to consider the plans for the courthouse more thoroughly.

In a decision recorded after an executive session the supervisors agreed to transfer $1,000 from the seawall fund to the pauper fund in the form of a loan. Changes in the pauper fund budget reportedly were made during the executive session but have not yet been recorded.

Political Season On, Stockstill Files First

Virgil E. Stockstill, unsuccessful four years ago in his bid for the Beat 4 seat on the Hancock County Board of supervisors, this week became the first to pay his filing fee and enter the field for the August Democratic primary.

March Bids Asked On City Hall Job

Bids will be opened at 10 a.m. March 12 for labor and materials for remodeling of City Hall, Commissioner J. Cyril Glover said. The natural gas department will provide funds for the remodeling, which will include its offices.

Architect Fred Wagner of the New Orleans firm of Oubre and Wagner is in charge of the project, which will involve conversion of facilities formerly used by the public health department on the first floor and remodeling of the section of the first floor now used by the city.

New Subscription Rates Are Announced by Echo

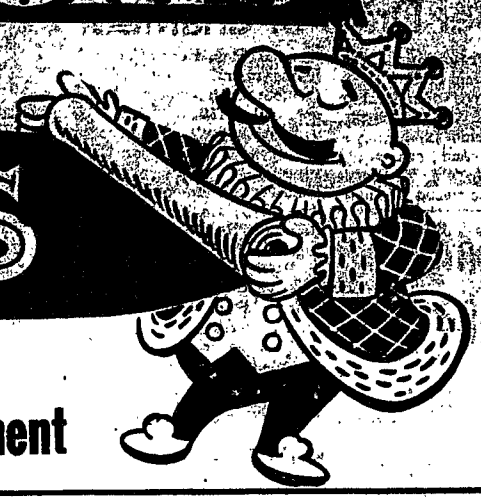

Effective with this issue the single copy price of the Sea Coast Echo is reduced to 5 cents from 10 cents. For those subscribers who receive their mail through a Hancock County post office the subscription price for one year is reduced to $2 from $3. The subscription rate for the rest of the United States, including APO and FPO addresses, remains $3 per year, while the foreign subscription price will be $4.50 a year. The difference in postal rates is a primary factor in these distinctions in cost to subscribers.

Echo readers who have paid $3 for a current subscription and would now be entitled to the $2 rate will be credited with a pro-rata extension of the unexpired portion of their subscription.

CANDLELIGHT TEA—Lovely candlelight was placed throughout Little Mirador, home of Mrs. Ruth Luderbach on St. Charles Avenue for the tea which climaxed Tuesday's local portion of the Coast Garden Club Pilgrimage. Mrs. Luderbach is shown pouring coffee to two visitors in the charming kitchen of the home. Others pouring were Mrs. Ray Garber of Hanover, Pa.; Mrs. Paul LaGrone of New Orleans, and Mrs. Millare Ogden and Mrs. E. Ryan, both of Waveland. Violets graced the dining room tea table. A special taste treat was a plate of sugared violet petals.

Standards In Shopping

Remember when we used to go to the store and ask for "a dime's worth of cheese and crackers"? Sometimes you got enough for a meal. Other times you got much less. Depended on who was doing the weighing or measuring, didn't it?

It's very seldom now that we ask for a "dime's worth" or a "quarter's worth" of anything. We have come to buy by weights and measures. Weights and measures are standard terms and can mean more to us as we buy.

A pound should be a pound, it shouldn't vary. Do you always match any weighing or measuring to prevent errors that could cost you money? It often pays.

Do you recognize standards? Standards simplify the number of sizes in articles. For example, there are standards for shoes for our feet. It would be very difficult to choose the correct shoe if there were dozens of sizes to choose from and if each manufacturer set his own standard.

Standards help a consumer know what a product is. The U. S. Pharmacopoeia has set a formula for aspirin. All aspirin is made by the same formula. This is quite a help in comparing costs of various brands.

Standards set requirements for safety. The U. S. Seal of Unadulterated Laboratories, indicates safety for electric, automotive, fire prevention, gas, and other appliances bearing the seal.

Heart Disease

Heart disease was the cause of more deaths in Mississippi in 1957 than any other cause. Nearly one out of every three of all the people who died, died as a result of heart trouble.

The majority of these were men. You, as a wife and homemaker have a responsibility to your husband, your children and yourself to help protect the health of your family. The American Heart Association says you can help guard your husband against heart attack by:

1. Persuade him to stop worrying about "symptoms" that may or may not indicate heart disease. Clear away all doubts by having him consult a doctor.
2. See to it that he gets plenty of rest to ease the workload on his heart.
3. Serve food that gives proper nourishment without adding excess weight.
4. Encourage him to exercise regularly and moderately so he keeps physically fit.
5. Get him to get away from his work for short periods and to leave it at the office or on the farm.
6. Help him to avoid tensions and anxieties, and as much as possible, let him enjoy peace of mind.

Bay Woman Rolls

248 in Bowling

For New Record

Mrs. Norman J. Glass, formerly Miss Frances Saucier, daughter of Mrs. Carmelita Saucier, has posted a sparkling 248 score that would be the envy of many men bowlers in women's league play at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, N. M., where her husband CWO Glass is stationed with the 832nd Inst. Squadron.

Her score, bowled at scratch, set a new record for the women's competition.

She got a strike with her first ball, followed with a spare and then threw four more strikes. A tenth pin cost her a few pins as she spared in the seventh, then followed with a turkey and a final spare. The top cost her 21 pins or a game for 269 in her seventh frame.

Set Building Starts For Theatre Play

Set construction is underway for the March 5, 6 and 7 Little Theatre production of Speaking of Murder, the Broadway mystery melodrama. Mrs. John Husband, production manager, announced. Ben T. Wood, designer of sets for the last two local plays and director of the September production of Time Out for Gener, is designing and executing the set for this play.

Stage manager will be Mrs. Encke Ling, who also plays the comic role of Mrs. Walworth, a faded, talkative blackmailer. Mrs. Howard Cox will be backstage manager.

Other production crew heads are Benie Martin, sound effects, Mrs. Rita Lorenzen, makeup, and Mrs. Curtis Matheson, prompter. Mrs. E. C. Samuel, a veteran of local theater activity, is directing the spine-chilling play, which deals with the attempts of an evil English governess to murder the charming second wife of a handsome architect.

Characters include Mrs. David L. Poindexter, Edward F. Glusman, Robin Gross, Dean Taylor, Piji White, Mrs. Ling, Gary Taylor and Jean Martin.
